The Stanislaus County Health Services Agency invites qualified candidates who are dedicated to public service and who possess strong administrative, communication, and leadership skills to serve as public health nurses. The Public Health Nurse I classification is an entry-level position and the Public Health Nurse II classification is considered an intermediate position. These classifications provide population based services in clinical/or community settings focused on illness and injury prevention and health promotion programs through education, case management, and direct care and community collaboration.
ABOUT THE COMMUNITY

Stanislaus County is located in Central California within 90 minutes of the San Francisco Bay Area, the Silicon Valley, Sacramento, the Sierra Nevada Mountains and California’s Central Coast. With an estimated 545,267 people calling this area home, the community reflects a region rich in diversity with a strong sense of community. Two of California’s major north-south transportation routes (Interstate 5 and Highway 99) intersect the area and the County has quickly become one of the dominant logistics center locations on the west coast.

The County is home to a vibrant arts community with the world-class Gallo Center for the Arts, a symphony orchestra, and abundant visual and performing arts. Stanislaus County is a global center for agribusiness, positioned by its mild Mediterranean climate, rich soils and progressive farming practices.

The area is recognized internationally for agricultural innovation with wine, almonds, poultry, milk, cattle, and walnuts being some of the featured industries. The County is also home to California State University Stanislaus, Modesto Junior College and benefits from satellite locations of other high-quality educational institutions. The County was established in 1854 and has a total land area of 1,515 square miles. Temperatures range from an average low of 43 degrees in the winter, to an average high of 92 degrees in the summer. Temperatures move up into the 90s during the summer months with low humidity and cool evening breezes from the San Joaquin Delta.

Stanislaus County has a current year total budget of $1.38 billion and 4,560 full-time positions within 27 agencies and departments.

ABOUT THE DEPARTMENT
